New York Market a Present Mecca For Retail Buyers Who Have Plenty of Money.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The retail merchant has invaded the city in force, and whatever section of the country he comes from the freedom with which purchases are made indicates a plentiful supply of money either in hand or in prospect. In the wholesale district the advent of the out-of-town dealers is always most acceptable. Mail orders from dealers and orders sent in by salesmen are naturally consequential, but when the buyer arrives on the spot the opportunity comes for making proper showing of stocks and receiving the benefit.

The activity in the cotton goods market, both as regards the manufacturer and the jobber, continues to a remarkable degree. Conditions in this country stand in direct contrast to what now obtains in England, where the mills in certain districts are working on short time, if at all. American operatives, encouraged by the increased amount of business, now propose to have wages raised, but it is a question whether the mill owners as yet think the moment ripe for such action. While not denying that business is acceptable, the manufacturers think that with cotton high and other features entering into the greater cost of producing today the workers should abide their time before requesting higher wages.

The large wool sales of the past few weeks give convincing proof that the woolen mills have decided to be fully prepared with raw material. Fall and winter materials made of wool are promised great popularity and the rivalry between the various textile concerns will evidently be greater within another year. Of late years there has been a direct appeal to the purchasing public, the consumer, through liberal advertising in order to interest the wearer. Woolen, silk and cotton manufacturers have engaged in this publicity campaign, and it has resulted in making popular certain goods not previously considered by the purchaser.

Few in the dry goods textile trade believe that the cotton schedule is firmly established, or that it will require much work to open up the subject later in the year. Importers are still growling about high rates. This dissatisfaction is not shared by the hosiery workers, who propose to show their appreciation of what their representatives in Congress did for them in getting the duty increased.

The extent to which the South is now a manufacturing center, with ample capital at its command, is demonstrated through the move now on foot for the financing of the cotton crop. This has been brought about by increased mill capacity, better facilities for shipping to foreign ports, and general prosperity below the line. Should great central warehouses be established in the South the manufacturer will find it to his interests likewise to have plenty of money available nearer home. Southern bankers are now agitating the question.

The Chinese market is still a waiting one. Stray orders reach the exporting center here, but quantities are lacking. It is now reported from the Orient that one reason for the scarcity of orders is that deliveries made months ago are still awaiting customers in China, and that nothing of importance can be expected from there until a good clearing out of stocks takes place. When this will happen the exporter is unable to even guess at the present.

ROLANDO SUTTON WAS THE VICTIM IN THIS CASE.

Appeals Were Made for Leniency, But the President Insisted on Their Expulsion.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 20.—For being involved in the hazing of Rolando Sutton, Jr., a brother of Lieut. James N. Sutton, Jr., United States marine corps, whose death at Annapolis two years ago has just been investigated, seven West Point cadets were dismissed from the United States Military Academy yesterday by direction of President Taft.

The cadets ordered to be dismissed are John H. Booker, Jr., of West Point, Ga., first class; Richard W. Hocker, Kansas City, Mo., third class; Earle W. Dunmore, Utica, N. Y., third class; Chauncey C. Devore, Wheeling, W. Va., third class; Gordon Lefebvre, Richmond, Va., third class; Albert E. Crane, Hawarden, Ia., third class; Jacob S. Fortner, Dothan, Ala., third class.

The action of President Taft and Secretary Dickinson in directing the dismissal of the cadets is accepted by the officers of the army and the civil officials of that department as a clear indication of the purpose of the administration to fully support Col. Scott, the superintendent of the United States Military Academy, in his effort to eradicate the practice of hazing in all its phases from student life at the academy.

When it first became known that evidence of hazing had been found in the investigation of the Sutton case and that seven cadets had been convicted of that offense by an army board, pressure was brought to bear on the President and the Secretary of War for leniency. While it was admitted by the friends of the accused that they should be punished, it was argued that their offense was but a boyish prank and not sufficiently serious to subject them to the odium of dismissal from the service at the very outset of their career. That these appeals were insufficient is accepted as a demonstration that the President means to follow the letter of the law bearing on such cases by imposing penalty of dismissal.

The text of the order of dismissal has not yet been made public, but it is known who the cadets are.

The offense charged is hazing, or more especially, violation of section 1, article 12 of the regulations of the military academy.

On the morning of June 14 last, Cadet Rolando Sutton, of the fourth or Plebe class, reported sick and was ordered to the hospital, badly bruised and suffering great pain. He did not report for duty again until twenty-three days later and his case immediately became a matter of concern to the upper class men when it was maiden sisters who occupied their home alone. The other sister was away from home at the time of the murder and there is no clue to the perpetrators of the deed.

Sheriff Dave Rickertson was at once notified and in company with the coroner went to the scene of the crime.

TWO WHITE MEN ARRESTED.

DOUGLASS, Ga., Aug. 20.—Sheriff Rickertson late yesterday arrested William McLeod, a youth who is employed on the Graham farm, and under a strict examination he confessed to knowing where the body had been hidden, although he denied having murdered the woman. He was placed in Douglass jail. A. B. Carter, another white tenant, was also arrested

HOT WAVE BROKEN BY THE COOLING BREEZES

In Some Places the Wind Blew a Gale---Many Mules Die in Pensacola From the Heat.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 20.—The hot wave which has held the Southwest in its grasp for the past four days has apparently been broken. Last night those sections which have sweated under the torrid heat, in many places unprecedented in its intensity, were visited by cooling breezes. In some parts of Louisiana and Mississippi the wind assumed almost the proportion of a gale, in many instances accompanied by electrical storms.

Yesterday the heat wave was central over Mississippi and a portion of Louisiana. There was a decided drop in temperature in Texas and Arkansas. In numerous towns in Mississippi and some in Louisiana the mercury soared above 100 degrees. Baton Rouge, La., reported a maximum temperature of 110 degrees. The thermometer reached 105 degrees at Hattiesburg, Miss.

Both man and beast have gone before the torrid onslaught and vegetation in many sections has withered under the scorching sun and hot blasts.

Only one death was reported in New Orleans yesterday as a result of the heat, William Schillenkamp. There were a number of prostrations.

HEAVY LOSS FROM HEAT.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Aug. 20.—Ted thousand dollars will not cover the loss to wholesale merchants during yesterday and Wednesday on account of the death of fine horses and mules which dropped while in harness, due to the intense heat. Fully thirty head have been lost in this manner while others are in bad condition.

A. M. Smith, a carpenter, was prostrated yesterday morning and is in a serious condition.

A severe electrical and windstorm passed over this city yesterday afternoon, the wind attaining a velocity of sixty-two miles an hour and causing vessels in the harbor to drag their anchors, while lightning struck the city power house and caused an interruption in traffic of two hours. The Osceola clubhouse was struck and badly damaged, while several other buildings suffered slight damage.

COTTON NOT INJURED.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 20.—Reports from many sections of this State indicate that the extreme heat of the past few days has not injured cotton in Southern Texas but has practically exterminated the boll weevil, so that the late crop will be improved rather than injured. Heat has caused the weevil to fall off on the ground by thousands.

PROSTRATED BY HEAT.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 20.—Charles Grady of Goshen, Ind., who was prostrated by heat here Wednesday, died yesterday.

Flying Machines Narrowly Escape Collision in the Air

RHEIMS, Aug. 20.—The American aviator, Glenn Curtiss, at sundown yesterday added a dramatic feature to the trial flights of the aeroplanes entered for the contests of aviation week by skillfully guiding his machine above another aeroplane and averting a collision in the air that seemed imminent.

The feat was accomplished when, for the first time in history, three heavier than air craft were maneuvering at the same time. All were flying rapidly when suddenly Curtiss saw M. Dumansel in an Antoinette monoplane, approaching at right angles and on the same level with him. As quick as a flash, Curtiss realized the danger and, elevating his planes, his machine instantly shot upward and soared safely over the Frenchman. The thousands of spectators who lined the aerodrome watched the maneuver breathlessly, but when they saw it successfully and brilliantly carried out they applauded the American wildly. The third machine in the air at this time was that of M. Tissandier.

The wind which had been master of the aeroplanes for two days, suddenly died out at sundown and the aviators rushed to the sheds and dragged out their machines.

Count De Lambert, on a Wright model, was the first of the aviators to start and made a complete circuit of the aerodrome.

M. Tissandier, also on a Wright biplane, followed him.

Then the Curtiss machine, looking smaller and more compact than the others, was placed in position for flight. Curtiss still was limping and used in walking a gnarled stick, but like M. Bleriot who before crossing the English channel in his monoplane, threw aside his crutch, Curtiss mounted the seat of his biplane unencumbered.

"Where will you land?" he was asked.

"Right here," answered Curtiss, and, smiling, he started his motor. After a short run over the ground the aeroplane ascended and made a wide turn and then described evolutions back and forth over the aerodrome. Meantime M. Dumansel had started across the field in one of the Antoinette machines.

Suddenly it seemed to the crowd below that a collision between him and Curtiss was inevitable; but the American proved a quick thinker and gracefully swerved his aeroplane upward and steered it safely over that of Dumansel.

Curtiss, true to his word, landed without accident at his place of starting, after having been in the air four minutes. The altitude reached by him was 150 feet, fifty feet higher than any of the others. Count De Lambert and M. Tissandier each made flights of twelve minutes during the evening and Hubert Latham took a few short spins about the course and was given an ovation by the spectators.

M. Bleriot came out on the field with his monoplane, but darkness prevented his making a flight.

Mr. Curtiss last night joined the other experts in a statement to the effect that aviation is a fine weather sport, but that people must not expect flights to be made in all sorts of weather. Personally, Mr. Curtiss said he did not intend to take any risks. He has decided not to enter the passenger-carrying contest, as he has no hope of defeating Bleriot in it. He intends, instead, to devote himself to the speed contests.

Husband Returns to Wife After Many Years' Absence

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., Aug. 20.—Mrs. George Frey, who for fourteen years suffered under the suspicion of her neighbors that she had foully done away with her husband, is now enjoying her day of triumph. With the long missing husband seated beside her, she is driving throughout the country side calling the farmers' wives from their homes and exhibiting the man for whose strange disappearance she had suffered so much. She cries: "Here is my husband! See he is alive; I did not kill him."

After a quarrel with his wife five years ago, Frey ran away and went to Chicago, where he says he has since accumulated a modest fortune as building contractor. Following his disappearance, ugly rumors spread, and scores of suspecting residents of this vicinity went to the Frey farm, turned over every square foot of it and searched every nook and corner for his body. Although it was not found, Mrs. Frey continued to rest under the suspicions of her neighbors, and had been practically ostracized, until the return of her husband on Sunday.

Frey said he had come back to take his wife to Illinois with him, but she has replied that she has lost all love for him, and that another man is desirous of making her his wife. But she is entertaining Frey in her home as a guest, and using him to refute the rumors concerning her. She states that she will give her husband another chance to win her love, and that if he fails she will obtain a divorce and marry the other man.

Two Men Arrested for Murder of Georgia Lady

BROXTON, Ga., Aug. 20.—News has just reached here of the murder of Miss Mattie Graham, which occurred some time during Wednesday night near her home two miles north of Hokesboro in Coffee county. The woman was dragged to a branch half a mile from her house, where evidence of a desperate struggle on a tree body was beaten and the skull crushed.

The object of the murder was evidently robbery, as she was a rich woman. An autopsy, however, may reveal evidence of a more serious crime. She was prominent and highly connected.

Miss Graham was one of the two

WOOD LOST THE GAME.

Graham and Hendricks Show Up
Well in Friday's Game Between Skeeters and Oak Halls.

Orlando 5, Gainesville 2.

That we are outclassed by the fast set from South Florida there is little doubt, and even the players must think so, for the past two games have not had the ginger and snap about them that is characteristic of the Oak Halls.

The Oak Halls went up in the air in the first half of the fourth inning and tried to throw the ball away, as if they were playing "hail over," instead of baseball, and it is just such work as this that has caused them to lose so many of the games the present season.

When they have anything to play, they are either scared to death or go all to pieces, and if some slow team comes along they can get out and handle the ball as well as most any team, but with fast company they are not in it, and the faithful fans have found this out.

Spottswood pitched a beautiful game yesterday. Sandy Graham played beautiful ball, taking every chance that was given him, while he also did some excellent stick work, and Hendricks made the only two runs that were credited to the Oak Halls.

Another game will be played this afternoon, which will be called at 3:30, when they will meet Orlando for the last of the series, and it is hoped that they will at least do as well as Ocala and "cop" out this one.

seen that the authorities proposed to dig to the bottom of it.

Before the board of investigation, which was ordered, Sutton, true to the unwritten code of the corps, proved a most reticent witness. Sutton's testimony, as transcribed on the records, has not been given out, but the gossip of the tents has been that, though he gave a complete narrative of his adventure on the night of June 13, he professed to have been unable to recognize any of his assailants.

One hundred and fifty-seven witnesses—a large fraction of the total enrollment of the academy, are understood to have been commanded to tell all they knew. The findings were then forwarded to Washington, where they were given the closest attention and twice returned to West Point for further elucidation as to specific details. When the last point of doubt had been made clear, the war department, with the approval of President Taft, took the decisive action announced here yesterday.

The broadly spread understanding here is that Sutton was "boomed" by a sheeted ghost, and that when like a stout-fisted young Westerner—he was appointed from Oregon—he defended his personal dignity and his duty so effectively that the ghost was glad to take to the woods, a relief party of hobgoblins descended on him with tent pegs and beat him into subjection.

Throughout the investigation Sutton's tact and loyalty to his fellow cadets have won him high popularity.

TUCKER GINNERY IS TO START UP MONDAY

READY BEEN BROUGHT HERE.

Capacity of Plant Has Been Increased and Will Be Enabled to Handle Larger Amount.

The Tucker ginnery, located in the southwestern section of the city, will start operations on next Monday for the first time this season.

It was the intention of the firm to start the present week, but owing to the non arrival of some of the supplies they have been compelled to delay the opening for these few days, which will give them that much better start.

They now have in the neighborhood of twenty-five bales in the house, and are expecting several large shipments the first of the week from near by places, which will give them a steady run of several days with the usual amount coming in regularly.

Owing to the rain picking has been retarded considerably in all sections, and the planters generally are hoping for fair weather.

The plant of Mrs. Tucker has been increased and she will be better enabled to handle the cotton business here this season than she was last year, owing to the fact that more gins have been added and an experienced and capable man engaged to look after the business.

The gins will employ a good man, common laborers, and this will help the local condition of trade to some extent. When they start on next Monday they hope to keep steadily at work until the holidays.

BURIED ALIVE.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Aug. 20.—H. Russell Wise, 19 years old, and James Dean, 21 years old, were buried alive beneath a steep embankment which caved in near this city yesterday.

They had no warning, and were smothered to death under many tons of earth. Several hours were required to dig them out.

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

Something more than an ordinary tonic is required to restore health to a weakened, run-down system; the medicine must possess blood-purifying properties as well, because the weakness and impurity of the circulation is responsible for the poor physical condition. The blood does not contain the necessary quantity of rich, red corpuscles, and is therefore a weak, watery stream which cannot afford sufficient nourishment to sustain the system in ordinary health. A poorly nourished body cannot resist disease, and this explains why so many persons are attacked by a spell of sickness when the use of a good tonic would have prevented the trouble. In S. S. S. will be found both blood-cleansing and tonic qualities combined. It builds up weak constitutions by removing all impurities and germs from the blood, thus supplying a certain means for restoring strength and invigorating the system. The healthful, vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed make it splendidly fitted to the needs of those systems which are delicate from any cause. It is Nature's Perfect Tonic, free from all harmful minerals, a safe and pleasant acting medicine for persons of every age. S. S. S. rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling so common at this season, improves the appetite and digestion, tones up the stomach, acts with pleasing effects on the nervous system, and reinvigorates every portion of the body. WHITE WOMAN DE-SERTS INFANT CHILD

PLACES SAME IN AN OLD HOUSE
AT LOTTIEVILLE.

Child Rescued and Being Cared for by O. G. Barker of the

A strange white woman who was supposed to be from Tampa, with two young children, was among the passengers on Conductor Ray's train to Wilcox station on Thursday night, and when the train arrived at Lottievill station she slipped off and placed one of the children, the infant, in an old vacant house.

The woman again boarded the train and got off at Wilcox, and nothing further was thought of the occurrence until Friday morning when the train reached Lottievill and Mr. Barker began to inquire of Conductor Ray about the child and told how he had found it, when it instantly came to his mind about the woman leaving the train and boarding it again without the baby.

He described the woman as being young and fairly good looking, and as she seemed in a good mood he never once suspected that she had done such an act as to desert the infant.

Mr. Barker, who is a merchant at the place, was attracted by the cries of the child and at once investigated, when he found the infant hidden in a box in an old shed near his store about 11 o'clock p. m.

He stated to the reporter over the long distance 'phone that he knew the woman, who was from Tampa, but would give nothing further in reference to the matter until the woman was placed under arrest, which would be done some time during the day, as he had located her and a deputy would be sent for her.

The infant is a little girl and appears to be about five weeks old, so he stated.

Active at 87.

CHILD ATE AN ENTIRE BOX OF CUTICURA

Spread on Some Crackers—Not the Slightest Injury Resulted from Little Fellow's Escapade—In Most Positive Way Ingredients of

CUTICURA PROVEN PURE SWEET AND HARMLESS

A New York friend of Cuticura writes the following interesting letter:—

"My three year old son and heir, after being put to bed on a trip across the Atlantic, investigated the station and located a box of graham crackers and a box of Cuticura Ointment."

"When a search was made for the box, it was found empty and the kid admitted that he had eaten the contents of the entire box spread on the crackers. It cured him of a bad cold and I don't know what else."

No more conclusive evidence than the above could be offered that every ingredient of Cuticura Ointment is absolutely pure, sweet and harmless. If it may be safely eaten by a young child, none but the most beneficial results can be expected to attend its application to even the tenderest skin or youngest infant. This feeling is shared by mothers and nurses to such an extent that Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have for many years been unhesitatingly used throughout the civilized world for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair and hands of infants and children from the hour of birth. And greater still, if possible, is the confidence reposed in Cuticura Remedies for the treatment of torturing and disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp. The suffering which they have thus alleviated among the young and the comfort they have afforded worn-out and worried parents have led to their adoption in countless homes as priceless agents in the speedy, permanent, safe and economical treatment of infantile and birth humors, eczemas, rashes, irritations, inflammations and chaffings, and other itching, scaly and pimply humors when all other remedies suitable for children fail.

Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 21, Charterhouse St.; Paris, 5, Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. MAY RUN FOR SENATOR.

A. D. Covington Is Urged as a Florida Lawmaker.

QUINCY, Fla., Aug. 20.—That a baseball manager may oppose State Senator James E. Broome, oldest member of the upper branch of Florida's Legislature in the next primary, was proposed by a demonstration on the court house square here Wednesday, following the Quincy team's victory over Bainbridge. Wild with enthusiasm men gathered called for A. D. Covington, manager of Quincy's team, who was introduced as "next Senator from the Sixth District."

Mr. Covington expressed his warm appreciation of the call, and stated that later on he would let them know whether or not he would be a candidate.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." J. W. McCollum & Co.

T. B. Ellis, Sr., has returned from Jacksonville, where he went for the purpose of having one of his eyes operated upon. While he is not permitted to have the eye subjected to the light, he feels thankful that it has proven a grand success so far, and believes that his sight has been restored in the effected eye. He will be compelled to make a few visits to Jacksonville to have special treatment, but the greater part of the work has been accomplished and he can spend most of the time here.

ORANGES MAY BE VERY SCARCE THIS SEASON

THREE GROVES THAT ARE REPORTED HEAVY WITH FRUIT.

Drouth Has Had a Good Deal to Do With the Scarcity Throughout This Section of State.

The orange groves of Alachua county will fall far short of their fruit yield the coming fall in all places so far heard from, and particularly so in the Micanopy and Tacoma section, which was at one time the home of the golden fruit.

It is said that only about three groves have any fruit to speak of, and they are those of Dr. H. L. Montgomery, A. G. Lamb and Capt. B. W. Fontane, and the fruit on these groves is very fancy so far.

Of course the other groves are not barren, but the smallest crop that has been on the trees in years is the present one, and this is accounted for in a measure by the drouth, which caused the bloom to shed, and later the young fruit.

There will be a number of carloads from the three groves above mentioned, and this alone will present a busy time when they start gathering, but nothing like what was experienced last season.

THE AIR DOME.

The Air Dome was again crowded last evening to witness the performance by Murdock & Watson, one of the very best vaudeville acts that has ever been seen in this city. The sketch artists were called away yesterday afternoon, but the difference was made up by the musicians. The place is growing more and more popular each week, and at the present rate it will be only a short while before it will have to be enlarged to accommodate the attendance.

Are YOU Being "Hunted?"

One of today's want ads. may be hunting you—ransacking the city for you. It may have a message for you of urgent personal importance—one that, when you get it, and heed it, may change the immediate currents of your activities, of your interests—may even place around and about you new environments, new associates; may give you an entirely new start in a business way.

Isn't it worth while to try to find out whether this may not be true—today, tomorrow, or very soon?

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

If California's output of petroleum continues to exceed in value the production of gold, the oil barrel may supplant the pick-axe on the great seal of the Golden State.

Taxable values for the State of Texas are $2,298,986,541, an increase of nearly $125,000,000 over 1908. Here is a striking commentary on what railway development means, and it should be borne in mind that Texas has done little more than make a good start.

When it is considered that China's railway development will bring 430,000,000 people, whose commercial possibilities are limitless, into closer contact with the outside world, it is not so strange that America is insisting upon a fair share of the proposed loan.

In the September Van Norden Magazine General Theodore A. Bingham, recently deposed as Police Commissioner of New York City, begins the narrative of "Why I Was Removed." The first instalment in characteristically frank, and Mayor McClellan is presented to the reader in a not altogether favorable light. The General declares he will not sum up at the end, but by the presentation of a series of incidents will leave the reader material from which he may draw his own conclusions.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

(From The Orlando Reporter-Star.)

Florida Democrats are coming in to their senses. The reaction from the primary pure and simple seems to be at hand. The convention idea without the primary was a mistake and because it was the Democrats of the State went to the other extreme and voted out the convention altogether.

Thus in the late national campaign Florida was unique among the States in not having anything authoritative or definite as an organization.

It has been discovered that the primary under certain wise limitations is a good thing, but that it is not sufficient in itself.

We are heartily in accord with the following able editorial from The Tampa Tribune on this important question:

"The sentiment in favor of a State Democratic convention increases beautifully. The weekly press has taken up the subject with a vim and determination and such pressures of public opinion will, in due course of time, be brought to bear that a convention will be called and the party restored, in this State, to its proper perfection of organization and definiteness of policy and principle.

"The Lake City Index expresses the firm belief that a convention of Democrats will be called next year. Editor Appleyard calls attention to the fact that convention will have but little effect on the primary system—

"It simply tells us where we are at and prevents scrapping in the family."

"Under present conditions there is, practically speaking, no Democratic party in the State of Florida. In off-years there is no organization to speak of and little interest in party affairs; and, in primary years, the party becomes a veritable free-for-all, in which every member has a knife or a brick handy for some other member, and in which the only platform and policy in evidence is how to get more votes than the other fellow and how to 'land the swag' before the other fellow gets to it.

"What is a Democrat?" is, in Florida, a question without an answer. The so-called Democracy of this State has neither a leader nor a principle. Every four years it succeeds in manifesting some sort of cohesive strength in climbing on a platform adopted at a national convention in which Florida has little voice and in supporting a nominee in whom Florida has little real interest. Within the borders of the commonwealth, however, there is only rivalry, factionalism, throat-cutting partisanship, the scramble for place and pelf. When the Legislature, elected at Democratic primaries and supposed to be actuated by Democratic principles, meets in biennial session, not one member knows just what the Democracy of Florida stands for in matters of State policy, because there has been no means of expressing such policy. The Democracy of Florida simply goes to the polls and decides whether Bill Jones or Jim Smith shall be clerk of the court or sheriff or member of the Legislature, deals out the spoils, as it were, puts some fellows in office and puts other fellows out of office, makes its marks on ballots a yard long—and there's an end to it.

"If Florida is to remain a Democratic party, in the correct sense of the word, it must get its leading Democrats together in convention and take stock. It must map out a line of campaign and enunciate a declaration of principles—and it must have by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

a bit of house-cleaning, too, because it is among the acknowledged facts of Florida politics that not a few of the near-statesmen who are holding office under Democratic primaries in the Legislature and executive branches of our government are no more entitled to rank as Democrats than is Nelse Aldrich or Sereno Payne or Tom Watson.

"Let us keep up this fight, brethren of the press, and bring about this gathering of the faithful and the wise sometime next year. We have been drifting hopelessly among the rocks of dissension and factionalism long enough, and the frail bark is about to pound itself to pieces. A State convention would be a life-saving station."

PURE ICE SAVES LIVES.

The ice shortage of last winter attracted unusual attention to the artificial production of a commodity which has become a household necessity. While the natural ice accomplishes a large measure of results than an equal weight of the machine-made article, and the cost of manufacture is in the winter but little greater than that of cutting, housing and shipping, yet there are some advantages in favor of the latter.

As population increases, ponds and lakes become more and more polluted each year with a corresponding risk of contaminating the ice cut from such places. In our large cities boards of health are constantly on the watch to prevent the distribution for purposes other than refrigeration, of ice containing typhoid and other infectious germs. The public seldom hear of this work, and thousands through ignorance are regardless of consequences; nevertheless the unmentioned men in city laboratories where ice samples are constantly analyzed and inspected, are saving hundreds of lives where the men of the beach patrol rescue one.—H. H. Windsor in September Popular Mechanics.

Commencement of concrete work on the Panama Canal is clear proof that the project has left the realm of the abstract.

AN IMPRACTICAL JOKER.

He Thought It Was Very Funny to Fire the Hayrick.

Practical joking, "the meanest form of wit," is common in Hungary. Formerly the pranks used to be coarse, if not dangerous, but that is changing now. The only saving grace of the Magyar practical jokes, says W. B. F. Bovill in "Hungary and the Hungarians," is that they are not perpetrated in a spirit of bitterness.

One of the most famous jesters of the old school was Jozsa Gyuri. Exiled in one of the most inaccessible parts of the great plain, he lived and died "a prodigal and a buffoon."

A story is told of Jozsa going to spend a night with a Count Keglevich. Wishing to be impressive, he journeyed thither in a beautiful new coach, of which he was very proud. On being shown over the grounds by the count his attention was directed to a remarkably fine hayrick. Hay was then standing at a good price. After supper Jozsa drew together some friends, and the rick was soon nothing but a heap of ashes.

The next morning when Jozsa wanted to continue his journey his wonderful carriage was not to be seen anywhere.

"Why, my friend," said the count, "you yourself burnt it last night. The fact is my coach house wants repairing, and as the evening threatened to be wet we put your carriage under the rick to keep it dry."

Javelle Water.

Wherever water is used in preparing bleaches it should be soft. The alkali in hard water affects all chemical substances. Javelle water is a standard preparation for bleaching white things and removing spots and stains, but it must not touch colored surfaces. Stir well, let settle, pour off the clear liquid and keep closely corked in a dark place.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 7

The Cannon That Modernized Japan

By Herbert Kaufman.

Business is no longer a man to man contact, in which the merchant and the patron establish a personal bond, any more than battle is a hand-to-hand grapple, where bone and muscle and sinew decide the outcome. Trade as well as war has changed in its aspect—both are now fought at long range.

Just as a present day army of heroes would have no opportunity to display the individual valor of its members, just so a merchant who counts upon his personal acquaintanceship for success is a relic of the past—a business dodo.

Japan changed her policy of exclusion to foreigners after a fleet of warships battered down the Satsuma fortifications. The Samurai, who had hitherto considered their blades and bows good enough, discovered that one cannon was mightier than all the swords in creation if they could not get near enough to use them. Japan profited by the lesson. She did not wait until further ramparts were battered to pieces, but was satisfied with her one experience and proceeded to modernize her methods.

The merchant who doesn't advertise is pretty much in the same position as that in which Japan stood when her eyes were opened to the fact that times had changed. The long range publicity of a competitor will as surely destroy your business as the cannon of the foreigners crumbled the walls of Satsuma. Unless you take the lesson to heart, unless you realize the importance of advertising, not only as the means of extending your business but for defending it as well, you must be prepared to face the consequences of a folly as great as that of a duelist who expects to survive in a contest in which his adversary bears a sword twice the length of his own.

Don't think that it's too late to begin because there are so many stores which have had the advantage of years of cumulative advertising. The city is growing. It will grow even more next year. It needs increased trading facilities just as it's hungry for new neighborhoods.

But it will never again support neighborhood stores. Newspaper advertising has eliminated the strength of being locally prominent, and five cent street car fares have cut out the advantage of being "around the corner." A store five miles away can reach out through the columns of the daily newspaper and draw your next door neighbor to its aisles, while you sit by and see the people on your own block enticed away without your being able to retaliate or supply new customers to take their place.

It is not a question of your ability to stand the cost of advertising but of being able to survive without it. The thing you have to consider is not only an extension of your business but holding what you already have.

Advertising is an investment, the cost of which is in the same proportion to its returns as seeds are to the harvest. And it is just as preposterous for you to consider publicity as an expense as it would be for a farmer to hesitate over purchasing a fertilizer if he discovered that he could profitably increase his crops by employing it.

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business or a lost pocket-book—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.

THE SUN "WANT" ADS. BRING RESULTS

GAINESVILLE, —THE— University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road, affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit
